Because of that, we've developed a Privacy Policy that covers how we collect, use, disclose, transfer, and store your information on DrugDecider.org (the "Site") and the services, features, content, products, hardware or applications we offer (collectively with the Site, the "Services"). We receive information about you from various sources, as discussed below, including: (i) if you register for the Site and the Services, through your user account on the Services (your "Account"); (ii) your use of the Services generally; and (iii) from third party websites and services. When you use the Services, you are consenting to the collection, transfer, manipulation, storage, disclosure and other uses of your information as described in this Privacy Policy. Please take a moment to familiarize yourself with our Privacy Policy and let us know if you have any questions.

Consent. By using the DrugDecider app you consent to our privacy policy and to participate in our research study.

What Does This Privacy Policy Cover?

This Privacy Policy covers the treatment of personally identifiable information ("Personal Information") gathered when you are using or accessing the Services. Personal Information is data that can be used to identify or contact a single person. This Privacy Policy also covers our treatment of any Personal Information that our business partners share with us or that we share with our business partners.

This Privacy Policy does not apply to the practices of third parties that we do not own or control, including but not limited to any third party websites, services and applications ("Third Party Services") that you elect to access through the Service or to individuals that we do not manage or employ. While we attempt to facilitate access only to those Third Party Services that share our respect for your privacy, we cannot take responsibility for the content or privacy policies of those Third Party Services. We encourage you to carefully review the privacy policies of any Third Party Services you access.

What Information Do We Collect?

Collection and Use of Personal Information:

You may be asked to provide your Personal Information when you use the Site or Services. We may combine it with other information to provide and improve our Services. You are not required to provide the Personal Information that we have requested, but, if you chose not to do so, in many cases we will not be able to provide you with our Services or respond to any queries you may have.

Some examples of the types of Personal Information DrugDecider may collect and how we may use it include, but are not limited to:

- When you create an Account, use a DrugDecider product, download a software update, contact us or participate in an online survey or data donation, we may collect a variety of information, including your name, age, mailing address, phone number, email address, contact preferences, credit card information, username and password. You acknowledge that this information may be personal to you, and by creating an Account on the Services and providing Personal Information to us, you allow others, including us, to identify you and therefore may not be anonymous.
- When you set up DrugDecider, you'll be asked questions about your diagnoses, BMI, illness duration, and your age. This information helps us predict your medication response. We may process information from the Services so that we can send you alerts when something happens. We will store this data indefinitely.

- When you share your content with family and friends using the Services, send gift certificates and products, or invite others to participate in the Services, we may collect the information you provide about those people such as name, mailing address, email address, and phone number. DrugDecider will use such information to fulfill your requests, provide the relevant Services, or for anti-fraud purposes.
- In addition, some features of the Services allow you to provide content to the Services, such as written comments. All content submitted by you to the Services may be retained by us indefinitely, even after you terminate your Account. We may continue to disclose such content to third parties in a manner that does not reveal Personal Information, as described in this Privacy Policy.

You are responsible for protecting user personal information you receive or process and complying with all relevant legal requirements when you use the Services. This includes applicable data protection and privacy laws that govern the ways in which you can use a user's information. Such laws may require that you post, and comply with, your own privacy policy, which must be accessible to DrugDecider users you interact with and compatible with this policy and DrugDecider's Terms of Use. For more information on the General Data Protection Regulation, see more resources at <https://gdpr-info.eu> and <http://gdprandyou.ie>.

How We Use Your Personal Information:

- The Personal Information we collect allows us to keep you posted on our latest Services, product announcements, software updates, and upcoming events. We also use Personal Information to help us create, develop, operate, deliver, and improve our products, Services, content, and for loss prevention and anti-fraud purposes.
- We may use your contact information to send you information about our Services, but only rarely when we feel such information is important. If you don't want to be on our mailing list, you can opt out anytime by unsubscribing from these messages through your Account settings, although we, regardless, reserve the right to contact you when we believe it is necessary, such as the important notices described below.
- From time to time, we may use your Personal Information to send important notices, such as communications about purchases and changes to our terms, conditions, and policies. Because this information is important to your interaction with DrugDecider, you may not opt out of receiving these communications.
- We may also use Personal Information for internal purposes such as auditing, data analysis, and research to improve our products, Services, and customer communications.

Collection and Use of Non-Personal Information:

We also collect data in a form that does not, on its own, permit direct association with any specific individual. We may collect, use, transfer, and disclose non-personal information for any purpose. Some examples of non-personal information that we collect and how we may use it include, but are not limited to:

- We may collect information such as language, zip code, area code, referrer URL, location, and the time zone where the Services are used so that we can better understand customer behavior and improve our Services.

- We collect data from the voluntary survey which includes medical history and schizophrenia risk factors, which we will use to understand developmental disorders.

This information is aggregate and considered Aggregate Information (defined below), and used to help us provide more useful information to our customers and to understand which parts of our products, and services are of most interest. Aggregated Information is considered non-personal information for the purposes of this Privacy Policy. If we do combine non-personal information with Personal Information the combined information will be treated as Personal Information for as long as it remains combined.

Collection and Use of Other Information:

IP Address Information and Other Information Collected Automatically:

We automatically receive and record information from your web browser when you interact with the Services, including your IP address and cookie information. This information is used for fighting spam/malware and also to facilitate collection of data concerning your interaction with the Services (e.g., what links you have clicked on).

Generally, the Services automatically collect usage information, such as the number and frequency of visitors to the Site. We also collect statistical information about how both unregistered and registered users, collectively, use the Services (“Aggregate Information”). Some of this information is derived from Personal Information. This statistical information and Aggregate Information is not Personal Information and cannot be tied back to you, your Account or your web browser. This information may be used to improve the relevancy of results provided by our Services and enables us and third parties authorized by us to figure out how often individuals use parts of the Services so that we can analyze and improve them.

We may collect some device-specific information if you access the Services using a mobile device. Device information may include but is not limited to unique device identifiers, network information, and hardware model, as well as information about how the device interacts with our Services.

Information Collected Using Cookies:

Cookies are pieces of text that may be provided to your computer through your web browser when you access a website. Your browser stores cookies in a manner associated with each website you visit. We use cookies to enable our servers to recognize your web browser and tell us how and when you visit the Site and otherwise use the Services through the Internet.

Our cookies do not, by themselves, contain Personal Information, and we do not combine the general information collected through cookies with other Personal Information to tell us who you are. As noted, however, we do use cookies to identify that your web browser has accessed aspects of the Services and may associate that information with your Account if you have one.

Most browsers have an option for turning off the cookie feature, which will prevent your browser from accepting new cookies, as well as (depending on the sophistication of your browser software) allowing you to decide on acceptance of each new cookie in a variety of ways. We strongly recommend that you leave cookies active, because they enable you to take advantage the most attractive features of the Services.

This Privacy Policy covers our use of cookies only and does not cover the use of cookies by third parties. We do not control when or how third parties place cookies on your computer. For example, third party websites to which a link points may set cookies on your computer.

Information Related to Advertising and the Use of Web Beacons:

To support and enhance the Services, we may serve advertisements, and also allow third parties' advertisements, through the Services. These advertisements are sometimes targeted and served to particular users and may come from third party companies called "ad networks." Ad networks include third party ad servers, ad agencies, ad technology vendors and research firms.

Advertisements served through the Services may be targeted to users who fit a certain general profile category and may be based on anonymized information inferred from information provided to us by a user, including Personal Information (e.g., gender or age), may be based on the Services usage patterns of particular users, or may be based on your activity on Third Party Services. We do not provide Personal Information to any ad networks for use outside of the Services.

To increase the effectiveness of ad delivery, we may deliver a file (known as a "web beacon") from an ad network to you through the Services. Web beacons allow ad networks to provide anonymized, aggregated auditing, research and reporting for us and for advertisers. Web beacons also enable ad networks to serve targeted advertisements to you when you visit other websites. Because your web browser must request these advertisements and web beacons from the ad network's servers, these companies can view, edit or set their own cookies, just as if you had requested a web page from their site.

The United States, European Economic Area ("EEA") Member States, and other countries all have different laws. When your information is moved from your home country to another country, the laws and rules that protect your personal information in the country to which your information is transferred may be different from those in the country in which you live. For example, the circumstances in which law enforcement can access personal information may vary from country to country. In particular, if your information is in the US, it may be accessed by government authorities in accordance with US law.

To the extent that DrugDecider is deemed to transfer personal information outside of the EEA, we rely separately, alternatively, and independently on the following legal bases to transfer your information:

Model Clauses

The European Commission has adopted standard contractual clauses (also known as Model Clauses), which provide safeguards for personal information that is transferred outside of Europe. We often use these Model Clauses when transferring personal information outside of Europe.

Privacy Shield

DrugDecider does not participate in Privacy Shield at this time.

Information Regarding Your Social Networks:

Occasionally, you can use your Account on our Services to interact with your accounts on other services, such as Facebook or Twitter. In addition to using your third party account credentials to sign in to the Services, you can access posting and sharing tools on the Services, including a "share" button that allows you to post information to your social networks outside of the Services ("Share"). Please note that these tools may be operated by Third Party Services.

By using these tools, you acknowledge that some Third Party Account Information may be transmitted into your Account with us, and that Third Party Account Information transmitted to our Services is covered by this Privacy Policy. Additionally, when you use one of these sharing tools, the Third Party Service that operates the tool may be collecting information about your browser or online activity through its own tracking technologies and subject to its own privacy policy. Lastly, when you use these tools, some of your information from the Services (such as the reservation information you selected to Share) may be shared with the Third Party Service and others. Therefore, we encourage you to read the privacy policies and other policies of the social networks you use in connection with the Services. How, and With Whom, Is My Information Shared?

The Services are designed to help you share information with others. As a result, some of the information generated through the Services is shared publicly or with third parties. If we process your information based on our legitimate interests as explained above, or in the public interest, you can object to this processing in certain circumstances. In such cases, we will cease processing your information unless we have compelling legitimate grounds to continue processing or where it is needed for legal reasons. Where we use your data for direct marketing purposes, you can always object using the unsubscribe link in such communications or changing your account settings.

Public Information About Your Activity on the Services:

Some of your activity on and through the Services is public by default. This may include, but is not limited to, content you have posted publicly on the Site or Social Media or otherwise through the Services.

Registered users may have some of this information associated with their Accounts. Unregistered users will not have this association, but information concerning their use of the Services (such as what pages they have visited) may be tracked anonymously through the use of cookies and stored by us.

Please also remember that if you choose to provide Personal Information using certain public features of the Services, then that information is governed by the privacy settings of those particular features and may be publicly available. Individuals reading such information may use or disclose it to other individuals or entities without our control and without your knowledge, and search engines may index that information. We therefore urge you to think carefully about including any specific information you may deem private in content that you create or information that you submit through the Services.

You are responsible for protecting user personal information you receive or process and complying with all relevant legal requirements when you use the Services. This includes applicable data protection and privacy laws that govern the ways in which you can use a user's information. Such laws may require that you post, and comply with, your own privacy policy, which must be accessible to DrugDecider users you interact with and compatible with this policy and DrugDecider's Terms of Use. For more information on the General Data Protection Regulation, see more resources at <https://gdpr-info.eu> and <http://gdprandyou.ie>.
